December 14—Annual Christmas Party

Profiled by Tom Lang

Our December 14th breakfast meeting will be our annual Christmas Party! Please bring an unwrapped toy as a Christmas present for a needy child or a monetary gift for the Saint Agnes Holy Cross Center for Women.

Back by popular demand, the Our Lady of Perpetual Help School Choir, under the direction of Melita Mudri-Zubacz, will perform Christmas carols, and we'll also hear a special message from our club's Spiritual Advisor, Fr. Craig Plunkett, to keep us focused on the true meaning of Christmas.

There will also be some fun door prizes and even an appearance by Ol' Saint Nick himself.

We hope you will join us for an uplifting Christmas breakfast and a joyous celebration of this most wonderful time of the year!

Melita Mudri-Zubacz, OLPH Choir Director

Speaker Recap Robert J. Hutchinson

By Norma Williams

The gospels are reliable. Jesus was Lord and Messiah—pass it on or not!

This is the conclusion of historical and theological author Robert J. Hutchinson, November's breakfast speaker. Misconceptions and radical skepticism about Jesus dominated academic scholarship for more than a century, but recent archeological discoveries have revolutionized the New Testament, confirming and validating much Biblical teaching. Unfortunately, these findings rarely find their way into the general media.

Jewish scholars have documented belief in a suffering messiah, a concept often thought to have been "invented," and there is evidence that Jesus did see himself as the Son of God, who came to set the world on fire, knowing the outcome of his message.

A few recent significant archeological finds include location of a crucial first century synagogue, a Nazarene house from Jesus' time, a burial box, Herod's palace, and Roman inscriptions which render old ideas obsolete. These are discussed in his book "Searching for Jesus: New Discoveries in the Quest for Jesus of Nazareth—and How They Confirm the Gospel Accounts."

A native of the Seattle area, in his early 20s Hutchinson moved to Israel, learned Hebrew, and motorcycled throughout the land where the ancient cultures came alive for him. Later he earned a graduate degree in the New Testament from Fuller Theological Seminary. He has authored numerous articles and books over 30 years. He will soon have a book published about the Civil War and Abraham Lincoln.

December Prayer

The birth of our Savior reminds us to cherish all our children, and this month, our Club is honoring women and children by recognizing the good works of the Saint Agnes Holy Cross Center for Women.
(See separate article.)

St. Agnes, patron saint of children, watch over the children of the world;
keep them safe from harm;
be with them in their hour of need;
and always pray for them.

O Little St. Agnes, So young and yet made so strong and wise by the power of God, protect by your prayers all the young people of every place whose goodness and purity are threatened by the evils and impurities of this world.

Give them strength in temptation and a true
repentance when they fail.

Help them to find true Christian friends to accompany them in following the Lamb of God and finding safe pastures in His Church and in her holy sacraments.

May you lead us to the wedding banquet of heaven to rejoice with you and all the holy virgin martyrs in Christ who lives and reigns forever and ever.

Amen

Christmas Giving

For Christmas this year, our club is providing an opportunity to donate to the Saint Agnes Holy Cross Center for Women. One of our members, Sister Mary, oversees the Center, which for over 30 years, has served as a refuge for homeless and underserved women and their children.

Jackets, gloves, hats, blankets (not necessarily new, but in good condition), and donations of cash will help make the lives of women and children happier.

The Center is operated by Saint Agnes Medical Center and the Sisters of the Holy Cross; the Center provides daytime shelter, counseling and referral services, education and skills training, clothing, laundry and shower facilities, and social activities. In addition, the center offers summer programs for children and teens ages 4-17.

Each day, HCCW provides services for an average of 126 women and 14 children. In one month alone, the Center provided nearly 500 articles of clothing, diapers for an average of 222 children, 543 showers, and 224 loads of laundry.

More than meeting these basic needs, the center is helping to transform lives and build a healthier community. Your gift will help meet the needs of women and children in our community.

Book Review

By John Kasaian

The Road to Santiago
by Walter Starkie
E.F. Dutton & Co
New York 1957
339 pages, hard cover

During World War II, the British sought to establish a link with Basque mountaineers in the Pyrenees for the purpose of smuggling downed allied airmen out of Nazi-held France.

The Brits recruited Catholics thinking a shared religion would be an asset in dealing with the Basques, and one of the Catholics they recruited was an Irishman, Walter Starkie, an accomplished violinist, the first professor of Spanish at Trinity College (Dublin), an expert on Gypsies, fluent in Romani, and a chronic asthmatic. During WWII he was the Director of the British Institute of Madrid, whose ulterior purpose contacting Basque smugglers, was to promote Spanish neutrality in the war.

In the 1950s, the horrors of World War II as well as the Spanish Civil War were vivid in everyone's memory prompting Mr. Starkie to embark on his pilgrimage to Santiago, which is the subject of the book.

I really enjoyed this book! Unlike many books on the pilgrimage of Saint James, this one offers three distinct stories.

The first being the story of St. James, the establishment and Church patronage of the route as well as the history of the Moorish occupation and their defeat.

The second is a rich account of the music, art, and architecture of the pilgrimage in the Middle Ages, in particular the minstrel tradition and notable pilgrims.

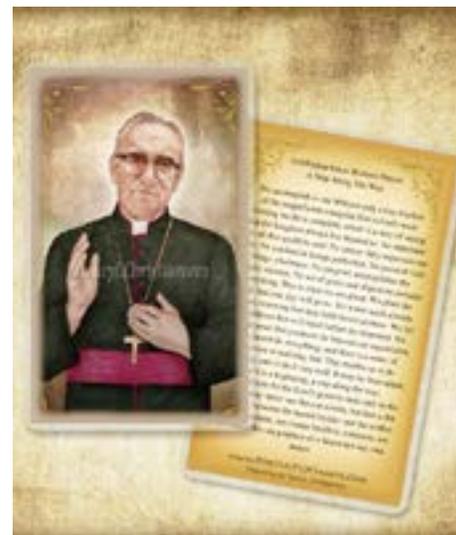

The third is the gritty journey Starkie endured—the route (not the more common “French” route popular today, although it does join up with it in Pamplona) and all the people he meets along the way—many of whom he remembers from the War—and seasoned with plenty of delightful stories.

I found it an excellent adventure—part Catholic culture, part history, and part Indiana Jones.

Canonization of Oscar Romero

On October 14, 2018, Pope Francis canonized seven new Saints in a Mass celebrated in St. Peter's Square. Pope Francis canonized Saints Paul VI, Oscar Romero, Francesco Spinelli, Vincenzo Romano, Maria Catherine Kasper, Nazaria Ignazia of St Theresa of Jesus, and Nuncio Sulprizio.

Though Pope Paul VI might be better known, many of us probably remember a person of the Americas, the Archbishop of San Salvador, Oscar Romero, who was shot dead on March 24, 1980 as he was saying Mass in the cancer hospital in El Salvador. During his three years as archbishop he was an outspoken voice for the poorest of his country; he was caught up in the conflict between the military government and the guerilla groups that claimed tens of thousands of civilian lives. Today he is regarded as a saint and martyr by Catholics and non-Catholics.

Julian Filochowski, chair of the Archbishop Romero Trust (set up to promote greater knowledge of the saint's life and legacy, as well as to support human rights efforts in Latin America today), said Romero was a man “who said what he thought and meant what he said, he talked the talk and walked the walk.” He didn't just love the poor, he adds, since “that's relatively easy,” but he also defended the poor with “apostolic courage” and became a model for bishops, priests, and all Christians.

Pope's Intention for December — Evangelization

In the Service of the Transmission of Faith

That people, who are involved in the service and transmission of faith, may find, in their dialogue with culture, a language suited to the conditions of the present time.
